Expected to Sink in a Short Time.

Rotterdam, Oct. 29.—The story of the finding of the sinking, charred derelict Volturno was told today by the captain of the Dutch steamer Charlois, belonging to the American Petroleum company, the Dutch branch of the Standard Oil company.

The Volturno was sighted on October 17, Captain Schmidt had not heard of the burning of the vessel, and thought it possible that there was a fire on the deck. A light was lowered under the command of the first officer, who stayed all night a short distance from the vessel.

At daybreak, the Charlois sailors boarded the derelict, which exhibited desolate aspects. Flocks of seabirds were seen flying about the blackened hull. The decks were bent and twisted in all directions with

MUCH SPECULATION AT THE CAPITAL ON BRUCE COUNTY

Party Workers Are Doubtful as to Result of Today's Polling.

Edmonton, Oct. 30.—On the eve of the voting in South Bruce there is much speculation at the capital as to the probable winner in today's contest. While the general disposition is to anticipate a government victory in a constituency which went conservative at the general election, party workers on both sides who have arrived in the capital within the past few days are not over confident as to the result. The same uncertainty which characterized the result of the vote in Chateauguay marks the conclusion of the South Bruce contest. It is said here that the two parties have broken about even in regard to the platform campaign.

Liberals are hopeful that the home-to-home canvass conducted by Mr. Truxy may have turned a couple of hundred votes, while the conservatives rely on the work which has been done in the constituency by the ministers and by Hon. Adam Beck, Minister of Finance, who has been in the constituency for some time.

As stated, however, neither side is over confident and the result is being awaited with the keenest anxiety by both parties.

Captain Bernier Returns From Arctic Exploration

Hale and Hearty After an Absence of Sixteen Months in Baffin's Land—Inexhaustible Harvest of Furs and Other Commercial Commodities in Far North.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Hale and hearty, Captain Bernier, the Arctic explorer, arrived in Montreal Tuesday night after an absence of 16 months in the northern part of Baffin Land.

He stated that he was absolutely convinced that Canada has an inexhaustible harvest of furs and other commercial commodities along her northern boundaries. "I have brought back with me," he said, "a full cargo of furs, ivory, fish and oil. There is a harvest up there that Canada of the future will be glad of, for it is boundless, and has hardly yet been touched. Of the furs I brought back, the foxes, blue and white, are the best, but I have some very fine bear skins and seal skins. The reports of the natives regarding the conditions of the fur-bearing animals are of the very best. The skins I have brought out contain the animals of the Arctic which have been wintering well and must have considerably increased."

"In passing through the straits of Baffin, we skirted the coast of Greenland, and from there went across to Lancaster Sound, and thence to Pond's Inlet. We formed a party there and travelled about 600 miles to Iglood, stopping at our various stations on the way. The natives are as friendly as ever, and with the guns and ammunition I had left the winter trip proved, had spent the winter profitably. Canada will draw a huge revenue in the future from the country north of this place, which has never been tapped by the Hudson Bay Company."

"After 11 months on land, spent visiting our new stations, I left the natives more guns and ammunition, for I intend to go back next year."

"I did see a few mineral deposits, which I will show later, but it was incorrect when stated a year ago that I had seen gold, for I never reported finding it. The party are all fit, and as a business trip has been a greater success than ever. The natives are well disposed. I do not believe that the Colwell party was killed, for when I got to Iglood, the natives there told me Colwell's Eskimoes had never got back. They were evidently lost."

CANADA'S GREAT FOREST AREA OF 78,000 MILES

Rapidly Being Depleted by fires and inefficient methods of lumbering.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Roughly speaking, Canada has a forest area of 78,000 square miles. But in spite of the fact that the country possesses such great areas of timber land it has been recognized within recent years that the supply was being rapidly depleted. This depletion was due, not so much to the legitimate utilization of timber as to the enormous waste caused by forest fires and inefficient lumbering methods.

As a result of this the government of the various provinces, as well as the federal government, undertook to put upon the market a plan of action to conserve the forests. At the same time all of the provinces which possess forests have some form of legislation looking to the protection of their timber lands from fire.

In order to show the progress that has been made, as well as what may yet be attained, the commission on forest protection in Canada, which report gives a resume of what has been accomplished through the operation of the order of the board of forestry, and also makes a list of the various forest reserves in the various provinces. It further points out the splendid progress that has been made by British Columbia in holding the number of forest fires in that province to a minimum, and explains the working of existing legislation on the prairies, in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces.

A special feature of the report is the discussion of the best disposal of lumber in lumbering operations. In this regard the experience of the United States in preventing fires in national forests, as well as the work that is being done in Canada by the forest and conservation associations is fully explained.

A major feature of the most modern machinery is planned by the Pallipalpe plant of Canada, Montreal, Quebec.

FEDERAL ELECTION IN SOUTH BRUCE OCCURS TODAY

Strenuous Campaign of Oratory and Canvass Brought to Close Last Night.

BOTH CANDIDATES STRONG MEN THROUGHOUT RIDING

Whole Naval Question Has Been Fought Over Again and Has Been Made Dominant Issue.

Treawater, Ont., Oct. 30.—A dozen meetings in different parts of the riding tonight brought to a close a federal by-election campaign, strenuous even for South Bruce. In several instances the candidates were met by two final meetings were held in the same town last evening. Both sides have made tremendous efforts in the past few months. Both candidates, W. D. Carrell, conservative, and R. E. Truxy, liberal, have been engaged in a persistent canvass of the riding, and both parties have brought the heaviest possible artillery to bear during the last two or three weeks. The ending of the campaign was marked by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's address. Treawater, but although the prime minister did not previously visit the riding, several of his agents and as far as a public issue influences a Canadian by-election, that is the dominant issue. The conservative and liberal candidates will retain the seat, but the liberals will have great hopes of reducing Mr. Carrell's majority.

Both candidates are strong men locally, and have made equal personal efforts.

Arthur Meighen Orates. Treawater, Ont., Oct. 30.—At the closing meeting of the South Bruce campaign last night, Hon. Arthur Meighen dealt with Hon. George P. Graham's declaration that the federal government was not to be a party in the house of commons had been gagged and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been gagged. A party had set itself to wreck parliamentary procedure by obstruction, he said, and the government had brought in a course resolution. The government had been aware that if the liberals in the house were permitted to do so, they would move amendment after amendment to the proposed new rule and carry on discussion interminably. Consequently it had been decided to follow a rule of the house not often used, and move the previous question. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. J. D. Hazen had risen simultaneously, the former to move an amendment, the latter to move the previous question. Then, following a rule adopted during Sir Wilfrid's premiership, it had been moved that Mr. Hazen be heard. Sir Wilfrid's reply was carried. Mr. Hazen made his motion, and a minute and a half later Sir Wilfrid had an opportunity to speak, of which he did not avail himself for two hours. As to the clause itself, Mr. Meighen said the government had prepared such a measure to be introduced in parliament in the event of their defeat, he said, and the government had the men who cry that they have been gagged.

PANKHURST STILL AT IT.

Cincinnati, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Pankhurst, the militant English suffragette, spoke here last night to a large audience. She declared that the militant methods were not needed to secure the ballot for women in this country, but that the suffragettes of England were keeping up their warfare until they secured the right to vote. Social questions, particularly the stamping out of the certain diseases, interested her most of all, she said.

McNIVAN still at it. On his return east from Nanaimo where he has been investigating the troubles of labor and capital on Vancouver Island, J. D. McNivan arrived in Edmonton yesterday. Mr. McNivan is the dominion fair wage officer, and spends most of his time on the road, travelling from one place to another, in order to visit the various public works in progress of construction, and to see that labor is fairly treated by contractors the prevailing wage.

Mr. McNivan said that the troubles in British Columbia, between the labor and the owners of the mines, were very regretted, especially as, under present conditions, the laborer must suffer far more than the capitalist. This, however, was very considerably offset by continuous and generous contributions from other unions all over America.

CITY PHYSICIAN AND COUNSELLOR MAY BE APPOINTED

Commissioners to Enquire Into Advisability of Having Doctor for City Employees.

BOWN IS OVERWORKED AND NEEDS ASSISTANCE

Should Not Be Blamed if City's Side of Cases is Not Rightly Presented.

Economy and the welfare of the employees were the motives which induced Mayor Short at yesterday's meeting of the commissioners on behalf of the conservation of the city's health, showing the number of accidents which have occurred in the past year, and asking the commissioners to consider a decision as to whether a city employee should be a physician, and a welcome addition to the city department.

Commissioner Chalmers revealed that last year, when the matter was first broached, it met with very little enthusiasm from the doctors themselves. The mayor was of the opinion that the best course was to await the result of the cases of the city employees, which would be a different story from an accident occurred.

Another question discussed at some length was the very important one of the city's legal department. Both mayor and commissioners were agreed that the city should have an alderman to the labor of the city solicitor was a good one. Commissioner Harcourt, who was in charge of the case, said that the city solicitor was overworked, and that it could not be fairly attributed to him if the city's legal department was not well defined as some people thought it should be. Mayor Short stated the cases of the city employees, which regularly retain counsel in addition to a city solicitor, and even call on outside legal aid in cases of importance.

FAIR WAGE OFFICER McNIVAN IN EDMONTON

Says Troubles in British Columbia Mines Are Very Much to Be Regretted.

On his return east from Nanaimo where he has been investigating the troubles of labor and capital on Vancouver Island, J. D. McNivan arrived in Edmonton yesterday. Mr. McNivan is the dominion fair wage officer, and spends most of his time on the road, travelling from one place to another, in order to visit the various public works in progress of construction, and to see that labor is fairly treated by contractors the prevailing wage.

Mr. McNivan said that the troubles in British Columbia, between the labor and the owners of the mines, were very regretted, especially as, under present conditions, the laborer must suffer far more than the capitalist. This, however, was very considerably offset by continuous and generous contributions from other unions all over America.

ALBERTA SUNDAY SCHOOL GATHERING IN FULL SWING

Cordially Welcomed to City by Several Resident Clergymen.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESSES DELIVERED LAST EVENING

Speakers Discuss Best Method of Interesting the Young in Lessons Taught—Grappling With Problem.

The necessity of more systematic work among the children, especially among those of the 'teen age, was very forcibly presented in two addresses, one by Rev. E. S. Bishop, superintendent ministerial department of the Alberta Sunday School association, and the other by C. A. Myers, associate general secretary of the Sabbath schools of the Presbyterian church in Canada, at the twelfth annual convention of the Alberta Sunday School association, when they met last night at the Baptist church for the evening session.

W. G. Carpenter, principal of the Victoria Hill school, Edmonton, occupied the chair, while V. P. Hunt, musical director of Alberta College, delivered the address.

Rev. F. W. Patterson extended a cordial welcome to all the delegates on behalf of the congregation of the Baptist church.

Rev. R. O. Stewart, of Robertson church, welcomed the delegates to the city of Edmonton and to its churches. Yesterday afternoon was mainly devoted to the registration and listening of the delegates. A brief preparatory devotional service was conducted in afternoon by Mr. McDonald.

Rev. E. S. Bishop, in his address, stated that the success of the Sunday school was the most important part of Christian work, for the age of childhood is the strategic period. All the problems of law and order, and the problems of the world-wide day in this day are based on the grasp of the children of the world around the church of this generation to the value and importance of education.

In closing, he said: "Introduce character, good habits, and you will find that the children are positively interested in missions and evangelism. The children are the future, and there will be a world-wide awakening of the children of the world."

Rev. C. A. Myers, formerly pastor of Westminster church, Edmonton, next spoke, and was warmly received when he rose to speak.

The chief aim, he said, in missionary education was to give the children a knowledge of the Bible, and statistics reveal a startling condition in regard to the proportion of the youth of our land who are ignorant of the Bible. The children are the future, and there will be a world-wide awakening of the children of the world."

ROOSEVELT SEES WESTERN STATES IN FRIENDLY PACT

Delivers Address to People of Brazil at Rio de Janeiro University.

SAY THIS IS CENTURY OF SOUTH AMERICANS

Promises Support of United States to Neighbors, Recalls Monroe Doctrine.

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 29.—(Reuter.)—Between North and South America there is to become much closer in the future, the development of South America will be the most striking feature of the twentieth century, as the development of North America was the most striking feature of the nineteenth, the only desire of the United States toward its neighbors of the western world is to see them stable, orderly and prosperous—such as the highlands of Theodore Roosevelt's first speech in government university here.

Every American nation, Colonel Roosevelt said, had reason to be grateful toward the stability and prosperity of its sister nations. Any country, he continued, whose people conducted themselves in stable and orderly fashion could place among its assets the hearty and practical friendship of the United States.

Intervention—Thankless Task.

"Chronic wrongdoing, however, might force us ultimately to intervene, as elsewhere, intervention by some strong and stable civilized nation in the exercise of an international police power.

"Such a duty," asserted Colonel Roosevelt, "is thankless, thankless and unpleasant, whether it be performed by England, France or the United States, whether in Algeria, in Egypt or the isthmus of Panama. And therefore we all hail with delight the advent to real power of such nations as Brazil, the Argentine and Chile."

Colonel Roosevelt's address seemed like expressions of good will for South America and admiration for the progress of her leading nations in building the foundations for their careers. Brazil and other nations of the south, he said, stood on equal footing now with the United States among the council of nations.

Douglas Monroe Doctrine.

And a reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine of America, as he asserted, a doctrine of vital concern to any old world power, and he declared that the United States was the principle that the western world should not be treated as offering ground for fresh colonization or territorial aggrandizement by any old world power.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech in particular:

"One cardinal doctrine on which we insist is that America shall not be treated as offering ground for fresh colonization or territorial aggrandizement by any old world power, and he declared that the United States was the principle that the western world should not be treated as offering ground for fresh colonization or territorial aggrandizement by any old world power."

"All of the American nations, which are so significantly advanced, such as Brazil and the United States, which participate on an absolute equality in the responsibilities and development of the world, as far as the hemisphere of the western hemisphere as a whole are concerned."

"The relations of the northern and southern continents of the western hemisphere are certain to become much closer in the future. The opening of the Panama canal will itself markedly help to make them closer, and great enough the benefits of the canal will be to our own country. I believe that they will be, if anything, more to the continent of America."

"If ever as regards any country, intervention does automatically become necessary, I hope that wherever possible it will be a joint intervention by such powers as Brazil and the United States, without thought of the selfish aggrandizement of any of them, and for the common good of the hemisphere."

"I believe that the present century is the century of South America."

Furthermore, I believe that the world has now arrived at the point where it is necessary to realize that normally the growth of one nation in prosperity and well-being is of benefit, and not harm, to the rest of the world."

TALES OF FEWER SOCKEYE SALMON ARE EXAGGERATED

C.N.R. Blasted Rocks in River But Government Cleared Way for Fish.

WATER LEVEL UNUSUAL FOR SALMON SEASON

Sufficiently Large Number Got up River to Keep up Supply.

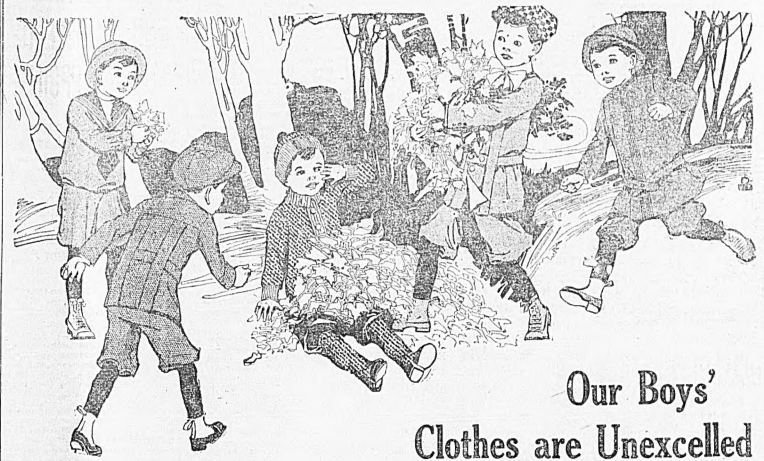

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—According to an official of the department of marine and fisheries the reports that have recently appeared in the press to the effect that sockeye salmon have been well presented, reaching their spawning beds in the Fraser River to the extent of a decreasing the big fourth year run to the proportion of an off year, were somewhat exaggerated. In building its road along the river, the Canadian Northern Railway allowed the regular quantity of water to be released, but the water level in the river, more salmon was caught in the hatchery pens early in the season. The water level was sufficient to fill the hatchery.

As these fish would not spawn for several years, as it is desirable to hold fish in the pens for a long time, they are released and a later run is expected to fill the hatchery. The hatchery is not one of the many reasons of spawning salmon in the upper reaches of the Fraser. The water level in the river is running high, a general thing, unusual for the season. It remained at medium height. It was ascertained that many fish were below the obstruction and were unable to get up. The federal and provincial governments, acting together, took immediate steps to overcome the obstruction, and as a result a passage way was provided, through which the fish then barred got up. The official says there is little room for doubt that a sufficiently large number of the salmon reached their spawning grounds for the common good of the river.

Moreover, in the hatcheries on the river there are at present over 40,000, or 45,000.

WIOENT SCENES AT COAL FIELDS IN GUINIA, COL.

Scene Shifts From Ludlow and Battle Rages Between Strikers and Guards.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 30.—Violence among the striking miners in the Southern Colorado coal fields today shifted from Ludlow and its immediate vicinity to Aguilar, six miles north. Fervid federal complications were present at the offices of the southern federal fuel company, where last night and early this morning a battle waged between strikers and a band of mine guards. After defeating the guards and capturing the mine offices, in which the police were also present, the strikers are charged with having knocked over a stove, setting fire to the building, and were destroyed together with the mail, money orders and money.

Postmaster Arthur Samples said the mail had been rifled before the building was fired as opened mail bags were found near by. After destroying the mail boxes, the strikers went to the Empire mine and ridged the boiler house with bullets. No one was injured in either the strike or the strike.

At the strikers' camp at Ludlow there was a display of rifle and revolver. Monday and Tuesday the strikers were gathered in the coal stockade all heavily armed.

The Colorado National Guard today established their camp on the outskirts of the city. No trouble occurred between the mine guards and the National Guard today. Mine guards and strikers threw their arms and ammunition to the ground and were taken up from the state forces and unless they comply it is indicated that the troops will remain in quarters indefinitely.

INVENTOR F-RAYS CLAIMS SUCCESS

Greatly Pleased With Experiment Performed by English Navy.

Rome, Oct. 30.—Stefano Ulvi, inventor of F-rays, has issued the following statement:

"I have learned from newspapers, but not yet officially, that the British admiralty has used F-rays with complete success at Portsmouth, where a ship bottom has been blown up from a great distance. I am availing myself of the opportunity of the experiments, which will triumphantly prove the truth of my theory and will demonstrate the terrible efficacy of my invention."

"I am not surprised at this magnificent success, because all the preliminary experiments, undertaken by myself were invariably successful. The world would be well advised to take notice of the results of the experiments, which are known of the new modified machine I am now completing."

"I am proud of my success, and it is simply owing to the added glory it brings to my beloved country, Italy. I have great trust in the Italian nation, which I deem to be incapable of committing a breach of confidence against me and of defrauding me of my inalienable rights as an inventor."

TORONTO UNIONIST LEAGUE TO SUPPLY MEN AND ARMS

Said to Comprise 1500 Members Among Whom Are Many Ex-soldiers.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The news last night published a sensational story of a unionist league having been formed of supplying both men and money for the anti-foreign cause.

It was said the organization has been formed with great secrecy, but already its members are being recruited.

The news says: "That the movement is so little one is evidenced by the fact that there are no more than a number of ex-soldiers enrolled among these men, for those whose time on the reserve is over, and who are therefore no longer on the war office payroll. Many of these men have soldiered in parliament, and the organization is not confined to the city of Toronto, but is active in the surrounding country and of local concern to the city of Toronto. FASHION NOTES.

HERE in New York we are all anxiously awaiting the new fashion displays. It can not be said that there is any really strikingly new note, although variations galore are to be found. One of the most marked tendencies is toward breadth just below the hip line with a narrow skirt about the feet but we have known and discussed that feature for many weeks. Fur will be extensively worn, in fact, used in every possible way, not alone as an entire garment but also as trimming in touches and in bits. On evening gowns are to be seen tiny little edges of fur that are extremely effective in contrast with the lace gauze and the like, and not a few handsome costumes show fur finishing the sleeves in place of cuffs and forming the small regulation collar at the back while the lapels are of the material. Fur used in such ways is unquestionably handsome and attractive but happily for the great mass of womanhood does not represent lavish outlay. That extremely handsome fur sets and fur coats will be worn by those who can afford luxury undeniably is true but the trimming of fur is unquestionably smart and, since our climate is a changeable one, many women to whom the item of coats is not an important one, choose suits that are lightly trimmed with fur from the standpoint of comfort. Here in New York at least, we seldom touch the zero point and many of the fur coats seem desirable only as a part of an article equipment. Fur trimmed costumes are practical as well as handsome and almost every known skin will be used, although the long haired varieties, notably fox and shark, are favorites. Fox, let it be added, is being dyed to every color to satisfy every whim. For evening and afternoon use, it has been seen in a genuine canary shade and it seems likely that the dying of skins will be pushed to the extreme. This is not the age of reverses and we no more hesitate to slash into sable and ermine to produce an effect than we do to cut up cloth that can be woven in any desired quantity.

BREADTH at the hips is obtained in various ways, notably by means of drapery and what is known as the "balloon tunic," although this last is reserved for indoor wear. It has been said again and again that modern conditions would not allow a revival of the hoop skirt. Undoubtedly that is true for general wear. One can hardly think of costumes requiring such generous width being worn under the crowded conditions of today, but experience goes to show that we will do anything, wear anything, adopt anything that comes with the sanction of a certain few, and something that suggests the hoop skirt effect is found in many of these short tunics. They are somewhat short at the front, longer at the back and, in many instances, they are made of thin material plaited and so trimmed and finished as to stand away from the figure at the lower edge while not actually wired, although now and again one sees the wire itself used. A costume exploited by a leading importer but with some way suggests advertising rather than actual use, consists of three flounces each wired at the lower edge. The material is chiffon and the effect exactly that of a triple lamp shade, which comparison was made simultaneously by two women when first it was seen. The greater number of tunics are, however, much more attractive. A pretty one is, for example, made entirely of mink lined in the finest possible plait. At the lower edge, these plaits are pulled out and the hem is finished with rhinestone banding. Others again are plaited without even so much stiffening for the plait is when drawn in at the waist line will flare to give the desired effect even without such aid. There are tunics, too, that are made of lace flouncing and that are not stiffened in any way but are allowed to fall against the figure and there are plait tunics that are trimmed with plaits. Tulle, mink and mull in all its variations are being extensively used.

THE three flounced skirt is a favorite and it is true that a great many will be made from fine material accordion plaited when designed for dinner use. For the street, three flounces in circular form are popular and tall women will find the style becoming and use them effectively. A new model is made in this way, the three flounces being overlapped and the uppermost attached to a deep yoke. As a finish, the lower edge of this yoke is covered with a narrow band of fur and fur edging appears again on the sleeves.

AN imported model seen today shows a tunic of all-over lace over which are arranged three plaited frills of mink and these frills naturally give the desired line. Flouncings of all kind are being used. Lace of every known sort is fashionable. If any reader has treasures of the sort laid away, now is the time to turn them to use. A beautiful gown of black chiffon shows a tunic of black flouncing arranged over white. Almost every dressy costume is made with kimono sleeves and many of the evening bodies are so constructed that they are made of flouncing. It is to be a season of lace, of fur, of jewelry, of retrimming effects, of everything that counts for splendor. What might be called the waistcoat effect or the center portion of the blouse made from a different material, is extensively shown and the treatment lends itself to the use of flouncing with singular success. An afternoon costume, that comes from a leading Parisian house (naming white silk with black brocade lining). The skirt is of the bodice while the tunic and the kimono bodies are of the same which is woven in bordered effect, and the edges of the bodice finish the tunic and also finish the sleeve edges. The vest is of white net. This particular costume does not show fur but fur appears in the greater number of handsome gowns. Wide girdles are being much worn. A handsome costume that illustrates how the edges of fur are effectively used is designed for evening or dinner wear and is made of crepe minkere combined with a rich urcade.

NO feature of autumn fashions is more impressive than the very great variety of fabrics and the extent to which plaid and checked materials are used. Not alone are wool woven in such ways, we have plaid silks which are exceedingly beautiful and fabrics composed of silk and wool mixtures in most interesting variety. The sponge that has taken on established place is found in wool and in silk and wool mixtures, too. All the rough finished chevrons that look much liked for general wear. Velvet and broadcloth are much used to trimming and, for the handsome more dressy toilettes will be used the velours de laine which is really a wool velvet exquisite in tone and quality. Velvet is the favorite of Paris and beautiful beyond any doubt but it is among the luxuries that must, of necessity, be reserved for the few, although there is still another fabric known as raw de pèche that has the exquisite velvety surface suggested by its name yet is somewhat lighter in weight than the velours de laine.

FOR general street wear, the silhouette is not largely changed. To be quite correct, waists must be larger, there being no distinct difference between the breadth at the line and across the shoulders, but skirts remain narrow about the feet while such drapery and fullness as are used are massed below the hips. Perhaps one of the most important features of the autumn is found in the very general use of the separate waistcoat and vest effects. The greater number of new and smart tailored suits show vest portions that are attached to the lining but there are also numberless separate waistcoats that can be worn with any coat that are exceedingly smart while their making are used broadcloth, embroidered, mink, velvet and all the wonderful, rich and beautiful fabrics for which the season is remarkable although, for every day use, waistcoats are seen made of broadcloth in contrasting color, of corduroy and of similar serviceable fabrics.

AT the extreme left of the picture is shown a young girl's costume of serge that makes an excellent model for every day use. The coat in Italian style is exceedingly becoming to youthful figures and there is a touch of bright color found in the collar and cuffs that are made from one of the Bengali silk showing Persian designs. In the back view the same costume is made of striped ruche.

PLAIID as trimming and in combination with plain material often appears at its best. It is perhaps a little extreme for the entire costume. The little girl's coat and the woman's costume showing a plaid skirt with the coat and trimming of plain color make excellent examples of the manner in which plaid can be used to the greatest advantage.

The little coat is an extremely attractive one with a separate yoke joined to the long waisted body portion beneath the belt. It is made from dark blue chevron with trimming of plaid and is exceedingly smart. A feature is found in the buttons of the material.

WALKING skirts made with slight drapery are found in a great many handsome costumes. The one shown at the extreme right is made in just two pieces the edges of which are lapped and held in place by buttons. In this costume, there is shown a vest that is made in sections and that gives a blouse effect at the waist line. Since everything that is loose, everything that is much bloused at the waist line is in the height of style, the model is an excellent one. In the picture, the checked material is combined with ivory broadcloth and with velvet. One can think of this costume treated in a great many different ways, however. Wool velours and peau de pêche are found in plain, striped and brocade effects. An exceedingly handsome suit adapted to afternoon visits and occasions of the kind could be made by using plain material for the skirt and striped or brocade for the coat with the revers and cuffs made from the plain material and the little vest portion and collar of some embroidered or flowered silk in really daring contrast. Everything for dressy occasion must show some bit of brightness. At least so much remains of the semi-oriental influence. The vests are excellent mediums for giving the desired results.

BIG FEATURE IS BOOKED FOR THE ORPHEUM THEATRE

Jasper Theatre House Has Secured Polmatier Sisters for Monday and Tuesday.

The Orpheum, Jasper East, is bidding for the theatre patronage, and is putting on some high class acts, in addition to the Polmatier Sisters, who head the bill next Monday and Tuesday nights. The house should be taxed to its capacity. These young ladies, five in number, have a reputation of the highest order, and the management of this playhouse should be congratulated on securing such a high-class musical attraction. Speaking to the Capital, Manager Ahrens said: "There is no doubt that this will be the first time that this orchestra was ever heard for the small price of admission, which is 15 cents, but as it is the policy of this theatre to give its patrons the best, the price will remain the same. It is really a very high-priced attraction for a piano-play theatre, but we are willing to go the limit when it comes to pleasing our patrons."

The press notices are of the highest order, and among them is one in which J. A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota, states that "the Polmatier Sisters are a really wonderful musical family."

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels, or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter charged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue. It causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the contaminated waste matter and poison in its bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely strengthen you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular.

AT THE MONARCH THEATRE.

Another photo play dealing with the great northwest country and the Royal Northwest Mounted police will be the attraction at the Monarch theatre today, in two parts, "The Hearted Jim."

History's pages contain no more thrilling chapters than the last stand of Napoleon on the field of Waterloo. The ensuing episode has been reproduced with wonderful fidelity in moving pictures and will be presented at the Monarch theatre Friday night. It's a picture that stirs the blood and holds the attention of the spectator from the start of the first to the finish of the fourth reel. The characters are drawn with an eye to realism, and the battle scenes have been created with marked attention to detail. No picture in the history of motion pictures has drawn the crowds as has this one. It is truly a masterpiece.

In sections. If for one day the Monarch was compelled to pay a large sum, but despite this the desire to please its patrons was manifest, and children will be admitted during the afternoon up to five o'clock for five cents.

PICTUREMEN ARE PERTURBED OVER LICENSE SCHEDULE

Content That They Are Being Discriminated Against in Comparison With Other Houses

Proprietors of moving picture theatres in Edmonton are very much perturbed over yesterday's order-in-council, requiring them to pay a government license.

The contention of the moving picture men is that the new order is discriminatory. In that vaudeville houses and theatres not showing moving pictures on their bills, are excluded from any license fee whatever.

The order requires the payment of a fee of $150 for houses with a seating capacity up to 500; $250 for houses with a seating capacity from 500 to 1,000; $400 for capacities of 1,000 to 1,500; and $500 for theatres with a capacity over 1,500. This schedule applies strictly to theatres that are strictly moving picture shows. For those theatres where a cinematograph film is shown as one number on the bill, the license is $300 straight. Should these theatres decide to drop the moving pictures from their bill they would be required to pay no government license.

It was stated at the attorney-general's office today that the order deals strictly with cinematograph shows, and that the same license is required of moving picture shows in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Quebec.

There seems to be the invariable habit of President Wilson's 1913 class.

"QUO VADIS" AT EMPIRE THEATRE THIS EVENING

History, romance and tragedy are blended into one awe-inspiring and thrilling ensemble in George Kleine's photo-drama reproduction of Henry Sienkiewicz's last celebrated story, "Quo Vadis," which will be presented at Edmonton tonight at the Empire theatre.

This is the most marvellous achievement yet in photo drama, and has created a sensation at the Astor theatre in New York City, also at Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, where the pictures are being presented to enormous crowds at every performance. For scope, magnitude, extravagant splendor and liberality these pictures have never been equalled, and they carry with them an appeal to every community. They entertain and instruct at the same time, and accomplish as much for religion as they do for art.

The story of Vintius' love for the lovely Christiana most lyrically is related with remarkable fidelity, and the companion picture of his friend Petronius' great passion for his handsome slave, Zerkia, is also faithfully shown. The trials of the early Christian martyrs, the ruin and cruel imprisonment of the wicked tyrant Nero and his courtiers, which were so graphically drawn by the author, are illustrated on the screen with commendable variety, and even those who have never read the book can comprehend the whole story from the pictures. Episodes that stir the mind to wonder and make the blood surge rapidly around the heart are pictorialized with amazing truth. The gladiator combats, the chariot races, the burning of Rome, the devouring of the Christians by the lions, the marvellous feats of Nero, the stirring conquest of the wild land by the giant slave Traus, the gathering of the Christians in the catacombs and the appearance of the Saviour to Peter are all shown with wonderful truth of detail and form a spectacle so stupendous no one can afford to miss it.

The best talent of the Italian stage was used in the building of the picture and the acting of these players is nothing short of marvellous. One forgets he is looking at a photo drama and feels that he is living among the peoples and scenes he is looking at. The picture is a masterpiece of art and expense to equip this production with every artistic attribute, and is to be commended for its dignified method.

"THE SYSTEM" ON NEXT WEEK AT EMPIRE THEATRE

Sketch That Differs From Most Plays and Doesn't Ridicule Police.

Steeping ecnolous upon the rank and file of metropolitan police, instead of upbraiding them for their shortcomings, is rather a novel pastime for writers of crime sketches, but that is what Granville, Clark and McCree have done in "The System," which Taylor Granville and Laura Pierpont will present as the leading feature of the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empire theatre the first half of next week. Both the last two years' winners are identified as two of the cleverest that have entered the vaudeville field during the last two years. They are supported by the late Pat Rooney, America's greatest soft shoe dancer, while Mr. Clayton is a dancer of talent.

Marshall Montgomery is a ventriloquist who puts to shame the average vaudeville ventriloquist, and Edna Munsey is vaudeville's latest recruit in the prima donna line. Her gowns are exquisite creations that will please every female theatregoer. Barbara Patterson will come back with another of her living art novelties. Instead of "Vivian D'Arce" it is "Beaux Arts" this time. As a professional model Miss Patterson gained fame throughout America last season. She is expected to repeat her former triumphs this year. Completing the bill will be the La Toy brothers, who combine acrobatics with something distinctly new in the field of pantomime.

DICE GAME COSTS $20.
Regina, Oct. 30.—Theodore Schmidt, proprietor of the York hotel, yesterday afternoon fined the minimum penalty of $20 and costs in city court for permitting a game of dice to take place in his barroom last Saturday night. Mr. Schmidt declared he has never before in his life as yet permitted gambling, of any description in his hotel or bar room.

GENERAL TREVINO CAPTURED.
Mexico City, Oct. 30.—Gen. Trevino, one of the oldest army officers, was captured by the rebels in an assault on Monterrey. He lived near the road terminal, which was occupied by the rebels, and was carried away as a hostage when they were repulsed.
It is reported by the department of the interior that General Trevino was rescued by a force under General Huerta, who engaged the rebels to the north of the city.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT INSECT LIFE

Many Scientists Disagree as To How Much Insects
Can See.

photographs using the compound eyes of an insect, as his lens. When the plate was inserted, he took 150 separate and distinct photographs of the same insect. One for each of the 150 eyes which make up the complex seeing organ of the tiny creature. Some insects have a thousand such eyes clustered together in one. Insects are so used to looking at a single object and see it multiplied into a company of a regiment!

Among scientists there is much debate as to just how much or how well insects at a class are able to see. It is fairly certain that they are able to see things in terms of their sense of sight in finding their way to their nests. They have been observed to study carefully the sticks, stones and leaves of grass which are close to the entrance of their nest, and on returning to the sticks and stones and leaves are the landmarks before entering. If their surroundings are disturbed they sometimes have difficulty in locating their home.

Red ants had chosen small natural holes in the otherwise solid rock as entrances to their houses. They had been able to use these holes for their entire nests without going to the usual trouble of excavating long tunnels in the earth. Being of solid stone, the communities were very well protected from predators. They were very present and ready to destroy their usual abodes in the ground.

Are Cliff Dwellers

These ants were indeed insect cliff dwellers, living in the cracks of a high above the common road of insect travel. Not only were they making use of the caves but also of tiny cracks in the rock. These served as smooth, level roads for the ants and their insects of other colonies, and no doubt saved many an ant home which might have been spent in trying to scale the perpendicular side of the cliff. These roads were also short and direct. In the course of a season would make quite a difference in the amount accomplished.

Ants are curious little creatures, and one always sees something new in their habits, if willing to study them patiently. They seem to have regular times aside for recreation, during which time Prof. Holmes has watched them going through the motions of an apparently frightful battle. Again he has seen one insect flat upon his back while another combed and brushed it with the tiny comb which actually exist upon the fore-legs of the insect. This recreation hour is usually held about noon on clear days.

After day after these games, and one occasionally will see several ants lying in the sun fast asleep while their brothers are sporting and undoubtedly "shouting" their merriment close by. Our authority once found one of these playgrounds of the ants which consisted of a sun-warmed stone close to a small brook, the flat area of the top being the popular resort.

By the way, just where is Harry Thaw located now?

SENATE AND HOUSE HAVE DISAGREEMENT OVER BILL

Seaman's Servitude Bill Arouses Dispute Over Protection of Life on Lakes.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Disagreement between the senate and house over protection of life on ships plying the great lakes was evidenced yesterday when the "seaman's servitude" bill, which recently passed the senate, went to the lower house for approval.

Mr. Alexander of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, in support of the bill referred, declared he would object to the provisions of the bill, making it mandatory for boats plying inland waters to carry full lifeboat equipment as sea craft. Mr. Alexander said carriers on the inland waters and not require the equipment of an ocean liner to insure safety.

Thirty-four Trains Bring Enormous Crowd to Convention—Over 15,000 on Exposition Grounds.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 29.—Ten special and 32 regular trains brought record crowds to the second day's session of the International dry farming congress, and there were 15,000 people on the exposition grounds. The official delegation from Ireland, headed by the mayor and two aldermen, arrived yesterday, with an invitation to hold the next year's meeting at that city. Waltham, Kansas, is also strongly in the field for the same purpose. Premier Hughes wired congratulations and good wishes with an expression of the hope that the 1914 session may be held in Canada. The decision will be made tonight.

Tuesday's program included addresses by Congressmen George A. Neely, of Kansas, on "National Farmers Credit and Loan Association"; by Hon. John T. Woodruff, of Missouri, on "The Business Side of Farming"; by Colonel Fred A. Farnsworth, secretary of the American Bankers' association, New York, on "Co-operation between the Banker and the Farmer"; by W. W. Thompson, of Saskatchewan department of agriculture, on "Agricultural Co-operation in Saskatchewan"; and by foreign delegates from Brazil, Turkey and Russia.

The students' grain judging contest for agricultural colleges was won by Kansas. The prize is a valuable silver trophy, now held by the Manitoba agricultural college, and which must be won twice in succession to remain. Manitoba has no team in the contest this year.

The Canadian exhibit is attracting wide attention on account of the many record-breaking prizes won at the dry farming exposition this year, and the Canadian exhibitors have passed a unanimous resolution thanking the exposition officials for their courteous treatment and efforts to make their department of the great gathering successful. The congress will close Friday night, and the exposition Saturday.

Stomach Troubles and Weakness of Kidneys Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

There is an enormous amount of suffering from liver and kidney derangements, and stomach troubles that could easily be avoided by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you could only realize the scores of everyday-ills that arise from a sluggish condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels you would not be long in giving this medicine a trial.

Mrs. Edwards Stewart, New Richmond, Wis., writes: "I want to tell you how thankful I am for using your Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for stomach troubles and backache caused by weak kidneys. I was unable to wash my clothes for over two years on account of my back being lame. I read the Almanac and began using these pills. Two boxes made a complete cure. ABSURD REPORT PROVOKES A SMILE

No Importance Attached to Silly Suggestion That Dynasties Be Given to Canada.

London, Oct. 30.—No one appears to attach any importance to the suggestion that the Dukes of Cornwall should be made hereditary governors-general of Canada. In fact, no one here seems to have heard the rumor until now, among the Canadian visitors. The report referred to about a founding of a dynasty and giving Canada a king provokes a smile. "We Canadians are very fond of the Duke of Cornwall," said one, "but we don't want any hereditary authorities set up to govern us, even in the pleasing way of the governor-general we have had already."

Lord Strathcona declines to discuss such a suggestion, "based upon wishes of rumors and backed by no authority," as this way, but with regard to the possible succession of Prince Arthur, comments the high commissioner, if ever lives proposed and accepted, Canada would not doubt be ready to give the prince and his wife as loyal and hearty welcome as they had already given his father and mother.

May an earthly ruler live a face that wears away temptation.

CHANNEL FOR FOODSTUFFS SHOULD BE BROADENED

In Event of War Canada Would Be Nearest Base for Food Supply

London, Oct. 30.—Addressing the London Chamber of Commerce Tuesday on Anglo-Canadian trade, Mr. J. H. Turner (agent-general for British Columbia) urged the desirability of broadening and deepening the channel for foodstuffs from Canada, pointing out that in the event of war Canada would be the nearest base of supplies, which furnished an overwhelming argument for an all-red route.

Dealing with Great Britain's comparative failure to catch the Canadian import trade, he referred to the attempt to sell in Canada goods unsuitable to conditions there, the lack of proper advertising of British goods and the neglect to quote prices in dollars and cents.

Regarding the proposal of the Canadian chamber of commerce to establish a British manufacturers' train to be sent through the Dominion, he said that $150,000 yearly was not a large sum in collective effort to secure the import trade of the Dominion.

JACK FORBES TO WRESTLE STEWART FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Goets to Winnipeg This Week to Train for Bout Night of Nov. 10.

Jack Forbes will leave Edmonton this week for Winnipeg, where he has arranged to meet Alex Stewart, the featherweight wrestling champion of the world. Stewart, who claims the featherweight title, issued a challenge through the sport page of the Capital recently to anyone at 125 pounds. He also agreed to take Forbes on at 130 pounds, which is Forbes' wrestling weight. Forbes immediately communicated with Stewart and finally a match was arranged for November 10th in Winnipeg. In order to make the bout a championship affair, Forbes had to agree to make 125 pounds, which he says he can do with 135 pounds. He is now training with Jack Forbes to meet, is one of the best there is at the wrestling game at this weight. He is an old veteran and has won many bouts in the old country and the states. If Forbes can beat him he will go on out, and meet Eugene French, who has promised Forbes a match any time he will come to Montreal.

Leach Cross May Have Best of Ten Rounds With Ritchie

Route is Too Short for Champion, Who is a Slow Starter—
Cross May Win the Championship in Tomorrow
Night's Fight.

By W. W. NAUGHTON.
San Francisco, Oct. 30.—This coming Friday night New York will have its first glimpse of Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie in action, and just what kind of an impression he will make upon the Eastern fight followers remains to be seen. Willie and Leach Cross are to clash in a 10-round bout, Ritchie, according to what has been flashed across the wires, has unlimited confidence in his ability to handle young Mr. Cross in a masterly manner. As Willie occupies the proud position of king of the lightweights, he could hardly be expected to talk in any other strain.

In deference to his excited condition, a champion has to radiate confidence as an easy wheel does sparks. If he failed to do so the public would shakeen its head and say that the champion was not in the mood to fight. Ritchie is a thinking individual, and he probably recognizes that the coming test will prove a serious one. To begin with, Leach Cross has specialized over the 10-round distance and is thoroughly at home in a bout of that length. He has started on so many 10-round journeys that he knows—or should know—how fast he can exhaust himself without overtaxing his condition.

It is something that works both ways. It enables a man to tell if the other fellow is crowding on more skill than he will be able to carry. Fortified with powers of discernment of this kind, a man who knows the short bout game from A to Z can contrive to keep something in reserve and make it decidedly uncomfortable for an opponent who has fought himself into a state of weariness.

Leach is Tricky.
Then, again, Leach is a tricky fellow. In the matter of sending in a slinging punch when least expected he is a veritable surprise package. There is no particular continuity in his work as he shows to poor advantage occasionally against mediocre boxers and performs brilliantly in high-class company. He is not to be gauged by what he did in his last battle or the one before, and he sandwiches good shooting in amongst the bad in such a way that the highest tribute one can pay him is to pronounce him a dangerous man.

While Ritchie is at all intents and purposes a product of San Francisco's four-round phase of boxing, it cannot be said that he shows to advantage over the short distance. There is a story extant, for that matter, that he recognizes the fact, and that he recently decided to take a leaf out of Bob Fitzsimmons' book.

Bob, in his later fights around New York, found that he could not limit up to satisfy himself, and he invented a practice of warming up to get his bearings more quickly after the starting count, and he told some friends that he could not keep his boxing up to exercise in the manner of Fitzsimmons.

Maybe the coming bout with Cross will mark the beginning of this new order of things so far as Ritchie is concerned. For he is from the writer to disclose any man's scheme of battle, but as Willie has made public property of his system, no confidence man is betrayed in this special instance.

Just watch out, Leach; if Willie comes into the ring with his nose flushed and his forehead moist with perspiration, depend upon it he has a sinister set-to with one of the sliders back in the dressing-room.

Started Slowly With Rivers.
It was the fight with Rivers that convinced Willie he would have been better off in the ring with one of the enterprising speculators that Ritchie is slow to get going. It did more to his fellow who had bet heavily on Ritchie for a while that he had backed up the wrong horse.

Little wonder, for of all the bedraggled world's champions that were ever seen, Ritchie was the worst in the early rounds of that match. His knees hit the ground; his hair came down over his eyes and his legs snapped this way and that under Rivers' pestering fire. But Rivers soon tired, and it came out all right after a while.

The four-round bout with Ad Wolgast was the only match in which Ritchie got to work quickly. He staggered Wolgast with well-placed rights, and even this was contained on the score that it was Wolgast's first fight after his operation, the argument being that he at the time was more a subject for a sanatorium than a prize ring.

In his match with Joe Mandot at New Orleans, Ritchie was very late in putting in his best kick. Striking an average of his performance, he is more at home in long bouts than in short ones.

Ritchie, albeit his ring work is a hard nut to down, he is game beyond question, although one might not think so on account of the extreme caution he displays in the making of matches. He has far greater assimilative powers than might be supposed after making a study of his physique and his facial characteristics, and he has shown that he can stand all kinds of wear and tear and still retain a stiffening right-hand punch.

ANOTHER BOWLING LEAGUE IS WANTED

Talk of Organizing Four Teams for Intermediate Games.

There is talk of organizing another bowling league in Edmonton. Representatives of several different organizations in the city have consulted with Eddie Morris regarding it and it seems that all that is necessary is to get the willing men together. There should be four teams in the league, and not three have expressed the desire to join. However, it is thought there would be little trouble in getting up the fourth team.

The three teams which would be willing to go into a new league are the Pennants, Swifts, and Whiteoak. The fourth team may be made up of newspaper men or girls.

Gives up Hope Because of Drink

The drink habit is a discouraging habit both to the drinker and to the drinker's family. Drinking men promise themselves and their families they will stop drinking but always fail to do so, because the craving for drink is stronger than the will-power to resist. They are discouraged by repeated failures to stop drinking, and the craving for drink is stronger than the will-power to resist. PICK TEAMS FOR BOWLING LEAGUE

Captains Meet and Select Men for Six Teams—Schedule Starts Friday.

The Captains of the Edmonton Bowling league met last night and selected the teams which will play in the schedule this winter. Most of the old veterans are back in the game again but there are some new names on some of the teams. There has been brought into the league just enough new material to make the result uncertain. Most everyone knows about how all the old stars will average, and it would not be difficult to predict the final standings of the teams if it were not for the new men in the line-up. Some of these new men are old players from other parts and some are young players who have developed sufficiently to receive recognition. The first games of the schedule start Friday.

Following are the teams, the captains being named last:
Wanderers—Abrams B. Russell, J. Smith, Pook, L. McNell, Grange.
Alberts—Knecht, Hackett, Steane, Adams, Muehle, Campbell.
Captains—Morr, Campbell, Hudson, Cross, Willard.
Athletics—Baldwin, Muller, Critchley, B. Simonson, Clifford, Hinner.
Olympics—Jarvis, Gardner, Tolson, Whitford, Kern, Morris.
Bokholm—Miller, Mathews, Wilson, King, Gorch, Simonson.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1913—Tom Williams defeated George Lawson in four rounds at Sydney, in a battle for the welterweight championship of Australia, formerly held by Dawson. Williams refused a return battle, and sailed for the United States, where he was defeated by mysterious Billy Smith in a bout for the world's welterweight title. Dawson came to America three years later and defeated many of the best men of the welterweight division, although he failed in his efforts to annex the title. Bob Fitzsimmons overcame much of the success in the ring in Dawson's instruction.
1908—Joe Zander knocked out Al Kuba in 10 rounds at Paris.
1912—Frank Brown defeated Harry Ho in 10 rounds at Oakland.
1912—Wm. Brown defeated Clarence English, in eight rounds at St. Louis.
